

CALL FOR PAPERS: 2020 ERINN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

We are pleased to announce that the 2020 ERINN annual conference will be held at Georgetown University on May 1 and 2, 2020. We are issuing an open call for papers for this conference. Both empirical and theoretical contributions are welcome. If you have a paper you would like considered for presentation, please submit it by Wednesday, January 15, 2020.

Approximately twelve papers will be selected by the Program Committee. The conference program will be available around February 15, 2020. ERINN aims to cover the travel and local expenses of at least one presenter for each selected paper.

The ERINN Network convenes researchers who share a common vision concerning the impact of social forces – particularly identity, norms, and narratives – in shaping economic outcomes. The basic premise is that economic activity takes place in social contexts, which structure and co-determine people’s preferences, beliefs, and constraints. A goal of this network is to bring these processes to the forefront of economic analysis.

We look forward to seeing you at Georgetown!

George Akerlof, Chair of Program Committee

ERINN Core: George Akerlof, Robert Akerlof, Roland Benabou, Jean-Paul Carvalho, Yan Chen, Paul Collier, Paola Giuliano, Rachel Kranton, Sharun Mukand, Moses Shayo, Dennis Snower

Instructions for Submission

To submit your paper, please take the following steps. You will need a free account with the Conference Maker service. If you do not have an account, you may sign up for an account on the website (see below).

1. Go to the ERINN Conference Maker website at:
<https://editorialexpress.com/conference/ERINN2020>.
2. If you already have a Conference Maker user account, enter your username and password for this service. If you do not have a Conference Maker account or if you have forgotten your login information, look for a link at the bottom of the page that will allow you to sign up for an account and/or retrieve your existing login information.

3. Once you have logged into the Conference Maker page for the ERINN conference, you will see a toolbar labeled “Main Menu” on the left of the page. Click on “Submit a Paper” (located under the “Papers” heading).
4. Enter your paper information into the submission form, including the paper title and abstract. Submit the paper either by uploading a PDF of the document using the “Choose File” button, or entering the exact URL of an internet copy of the PDF. Please be sure to provide the exact URL of the paper itself so that the paper will be automatically uploaded into the Conference Maker system. We request that all papers be submitted in a readable PDF format if possible. The submission page provides a link to guidelines on producing readable PDFs for submission.
5. Press “submit” to submit your paper for consideration. It may take a minute for everything to upload. You should receive e-mail confirmation that your submission was successfully received.
